

Contents

features

- 60 Spring in the vineyard
- 108 Oak alternatives
- 114 Wine presses and crushes
- 124 Bottling & labelling
- 142 Education & training

news

- 6 My view: Creating a sense of destiny
- 7 Murray Valley first to face harsh reality
- 10 New push to merge service bodies
- 16 Regions seek border protection
- 18 Regional round-up: Western Australia
- 24 People and places

grapegrowing

- 26 Prices drop $300 in three years
- 29 Why the past could unlock grape future
- 32 Green aims given global perspective
- 43 Roundtable: Practice makes perfect?
- 60 Bud mite battle continues in the West
- 72 Prevention starts with early planning
- 76 Managing outbreaks in the vineyard

24

83

106

- 78 Sub-surface irrigation offers new solution
- 80 Making sense of soil mapping

winemaking

- 92 Cyber sensor 'nose' how to judge
- 94 First molecular descriptions of yeast flora from New Zealand
- 99 Rock juice forms tribute to terroir
- 108 Orlando trial narrows quality gap
- 112 Oak staves make a comeback
- 116 Technology delivers flavour benefits

sales & marketing

- 124 Marketing terroir
- 128 Port: Time to revolutionise the label
- 130 Label Q&A: Print and glass combine
- 131 Cork still king in the United States

business & technology

- 136 Secrets, nudity, cursing and mayhem
- 139 The strength of screw, charm of cork
- 140 Appointments and accolades
- 142 Wine academy recognised as world leader

cover

This 82-year-old Syrah vine forms part of Clarendon Estate's famed Astralis vineyard, north-east of McLaren Vale in South Australia. More on their story on page 99. Photo: Randy Larcombe

regulars

- 5 on the grapevine
- 26 grapegrowing
- 92 winemaking
- 141 export market snapshot
- 144 looking forward
- 145 marketplace classifieds