

Cover

Cover: Mike Emmett's photo of Syd Bradford, the one-man band behind the Yarra Valley-based Thick as Thieves Wines, marks the commencement of our review of the 2019 vintage – beginning with the warmer climates in this issue (page 21) and continuing with the cooler climates in the August issue.

FEATURES

- 21 2019 Vintage report – Part 1
- 30 Winter irrigation in vineyards
- 46 A Taste for Hungarian oak
- 52 The essential role of oak at Australia's Leeuwin Estate

NEWS

- 5 From the editor
- 8 More transparency needed in the winegrape sector
- 10 National vineyard scan delivers first clear picture of Australia's vineyard plantings
- 11 Australian wine sector recognises Tony Jordan's contribution
- 11 Queen's Birthday Honours for Peter Dry
- 14 Australia's young guns of wine announced in Adelaide
- 15 Who will win the next Australian Women in Wine Awards?
- 16 International briefs

REGULARS

- 6 What's online
- 6 In this issue
- 7 Winetitles Insights
- 43 Ask the AWRI
- 61 Behind the Top Drops
- 64 Young Gun
- 77 Looking back
- 77 Calendar
- 78 Marketplace classifieds

GRAPEGROWING

- 32 Evaluating alternative varieties in Western Australia
- 38 What are the realistic expectations for making money out of carbon credits in vineyards?
- 41 Hi-tech harvest in Victoria's King Valley

WINEMAKING

- 61 Behind the Top Drops: Kay Brothers Block 6 Shiraz
- 64 Young Gun: Steph Dutton

BUSINESS & TECHNOLOGY

- 67 Exploring alternative varieties across the value chain
- 69 Another subregion for the Adelaide Hills?
- 95 Roundup litigation in United States off rails
- 96 A matter of heritage: What Australian winemaking family businesses can learn from their European counterparts

SALES & MARKETING

- 74 Why is New Zealand performing better than Australia in the US wine market and are there any lessons?

