

The theme of the June issue of the Grapegrower & Winemaker centres around caps, closures, labelling and packaging. The cover image shows one of the innovative product designs from Australian manufacturer Interpack.

REGULARS

- 6 What's online
- 6 In this issue
- 8 Winetitles Insights
- 18 R&D at Work
- 34 Ask the AWRI
- 84 Producer profile: Greg Follett
- 85 Looking back
- 85 Calendar
- 86 Marketplace classifieds

NEWS

- 10 NSW Govt confirms support for bushfire-affected growers
- 11 New nanotech clears white wine haze
- 12 Dan Murphy's 'direct-to-boot' service here to stay
- 13 Australian wine consumption holding up but spend per bottle is down: report
- 14 Villa Maria voted NZ's most trusted wine brand
- 15 International briefs
- 16 MY VIEW: COVID-19 crisis: a turning point for industry

14

22

GRAPEGROWING

- 22 FEATURE Drawing a line in the soil: learnings from baselining a vineyard's soil organic carbon level
- 26 FEATURE How Queensland wines are surviving climate change
- 28 Are sterile insects the future of pest control?

WINEMAKING

- 36 FEATURE Pressed to impress: Preserving and enhancing the characters of aromatic whites
- 44 FEATURE Stainless steel tanks built to your specific design and purpose
- 46 FEATURE Product innovation leads to striking cap embellishments
- 48 FEATURE Sparkling closures: crown caps provide a new familiarity
- 50 Inspirations from the past and opportunities for the future: Part 2
- 58 Saperavi Uncorked: Georgia on my mind
- 62 Filterability – critical factors for Australian and New Zealand
- 66 Young Gun: Dylan Lee
- 70 Behind the Top Drops: Tolpuddle Vineyard Chardonnay

84

SALES & MARKETING

- 76 FEATURE Through the looking glass: AR wine labels
- 78 FEATURE High-tech blockchain solution for wine counterfeiting
- 80 Direct-to-consumer: Taking advantage of your most profitable sales channel

BUSINESS & TECHNOLOGY

- 74 Succession planning and the will